INFORMATION REGARDING
SOCIAL DAY CARE AND ADULT DAY HEALTH PROGRAMS

Social Day Care (SDC) programs provide structured community settings for persons who require daytime supervision due to social/or emotional problems or physical impairments. SDC is one of the services available to clients in the State Home Care Program which is administered by the Executive Office of Elder Affairs (EOEA) through contracts with 27 Home Care Corporations (HCC's). Participants also may pay privately to attend SDC.

Currently, SDC programs have no licensing requirements in Massachusetts. However, SDC programs contracting with any of the HCC's must adhere to standard contract requirements and service standards (Attachment A) established by EOEA. The rate of reimbursement is negotiated between the SDC and the HCC. The current minimum rate established by EOEA is $20.00 per day.

If you are interested in starting a SDC program, contact your local HCC. The Executive Director may be able to inform you of the need for the service as well as contracting procedures for referring Home Care clients. For more information, contact the SDC program in your area. A SDC listing is included in Attachment A. You may also contact EOEA at 1 Ashburton Place, 5th Floor, Boston, MA 02108, telephone number (617) 727-7750 or 1-800-882-2003.

Adult Day Health (ADH) programs provide an alternative to long-term institutional care through organized community programs of health care and supervision, restorative services, and socialization. Medicaid recipients who are 18 or over, who require skilled services or assistance with Activities of Daily Living, may be eligible for ADH if they are willing to attend a minimum of 2, full six-hour days per week. HCC clients may also be eligible to participate in the ADH program. Participants may also pay privately.

ADH is regulated (see Attachment B for excerpts from these regulations) by the Division of Medical Assistance under the Executive Office of Health and Human Services. The current Medicaid per diem rate is $32.41. An ADH listing is included in Attachment B. For information on how to become a certified ADH provider, contact the Division of Medical Assistance, 600 Washington Street, Boston, MA 02111, telephone number (617) 348-5570.

Nursing services must be provided in accordance with the particular needs of each participant and must include the following:

- (1) supervision of the administration of medications and treatments as prescribed by the participant's physician;
- (2) coordination of the development of the participant care plan;
- (3) on-going monitoring of each participant's health status;
- (4) maintenance-therapy treatment as recommended by a therapist; and
- (5) coordination among the participant, his family, and program staff members of orders from the participant's physician.

(B) Restorative Services

Adult day health programs must provide or coordinate restorative services as needed for each participant, when recommended by therapists and prescribed by a physician. Restorative services must include occupational, physical, and speech therapy. The provider must establish written agreements with individual physical, speech, and occupational therapists (unless they are employed as staff members), or must establish agreements for the services of such therapists with hospitals, clinics, or Visiting Nurse Associations, to provide consultant services to the program and, if necessary, to provide direct therapeutic services to a participant. Therapists must provide direct therapeutic treatment to a participant only if such treatment is referred by a participant's physician and cannot be administered by program staff members. The Department will pay the restorative-services provider for direct therapy administered to a participant on a fee-for-service basis in accordance with the Department's regulations governing restorative services.

(C) Maintenance-Therapy Services

Adult day health programs must provide maintenance therapy to meet the particular needs of each participant when indicated by the therapy consultants or the participant's physician. The program's registered nurse must supervise the administration of maintenance therapy to participants.

(D) Activities

Adult day health programs must provide individual and group activity programs that offer social, recreational, and educational events designed to improve each participant's self-awareness and level of functioning. The dignity, interests, and therapeutic needs of individual participants must be considered in the development of activity programs.

(E) Personal-Care Services

Adult day health programs, under the supervision of a registered nurse, must provide personal-care services as necessary, and must offer training and assistance in dressing, grooming, personal hygiene, use of special aids, accident prevention, and activities of daily living.

In addition, program staff members, under the supervision of a registered nurse or dietitian, must provide nutrition counseling, consumer shopping advice, and menu planning to the participant and, if necessary, to his family.

(G) Counseling Services

A social worker, or other professional staff members if a social worker is not employed by the program, must provide individual and group counseling services to participants and their families.
